Response to Student Violations of Rules

If a student is removed from the lab for violation of the rules or inappropriate behavior their grade will be based on, whatever part of the lab they completed prior to removal. If the violation is potentially harmful to themselves or others, they will be sent to the office.

To the Parent: Our student will be working in the laboratory during this course. In order to ensure his or her personal safety, it is important that the above rules are followed. A student's failure to observe safety rules will result in their removal from lab activities. Please review these important rules with our student. We have also discussed appropriate class room behaviors; these behaviors apply to lab activities, as well. Please sign below stating that you have read these rules and understand the consequences.
